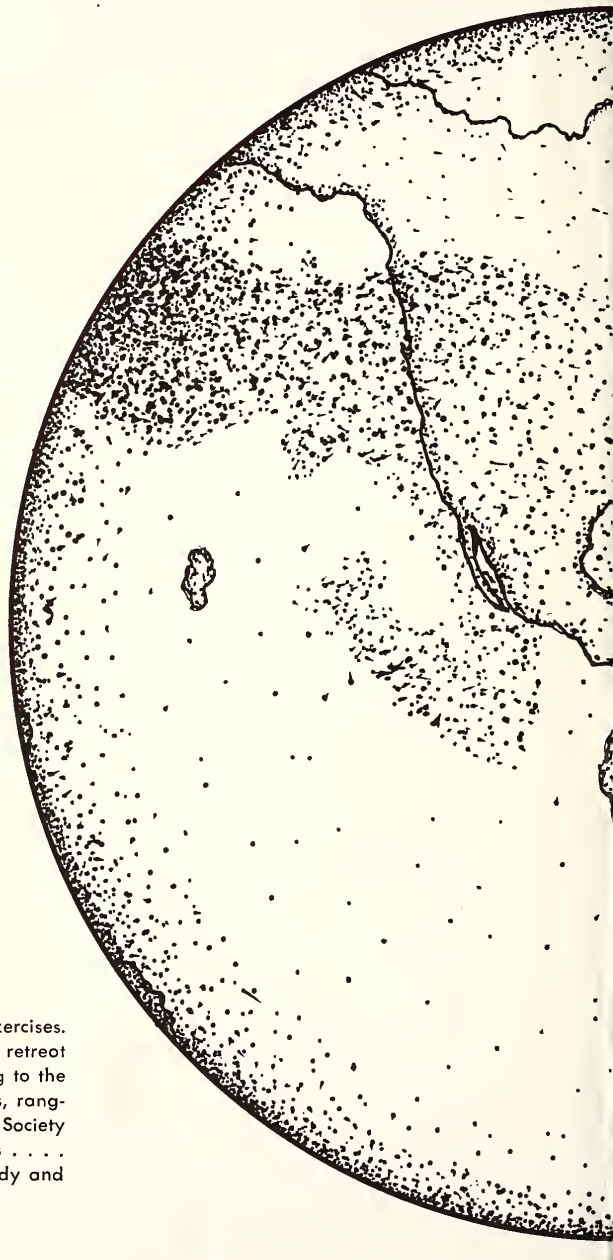
ST. IGNATIUS LOYOLA

The Wolf

1956

AS A POET SAID...

An Institution is the lengthened



St. Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Society of Jesus, died on July 31, 1556 . . . . This year, 1956, the Society is commemorating throughout the world the quadricentennial anniversary of his death . . . . The Society of Jesus is the lengthened shadow of One Man—St. Ignatius . . . . How lengthened this shadow is today may be seen from the following . . . . When the Society first saw the light of history in 1534, it had seven members, all stationed in one city, Paris . . . . Today, it has 32,899 members located in 74 nations . . . . Functioning today throughout the world are Jesuit universities, colleges, high schools, and seminaries to the number of 5,211 . . . . Out of every seven missionaries today one is a Jesuit . . . . Of the Society's membership today, one sixth is laboring on the missions in 71 mission territories scattered all over the world . . . . These missionaries operate 4,000 mission schools, 350 hospitals, 16 leprosaria caring for 10,187 lepers . . . . In the mission lands around the world, one out of every three students receives a Jesuit education, and one out of every eight native seminarists is trained by Jesuits . . . . .

Pope Pius XI declared St. Ignatius heavenly patron of all spiritual exercises. Building on this foundation, his sons have helped develop the retreat movement to a point unparalleled in the Church's history. According to the latest data, in one year the Jesuits conducted 19,483 closed retreats, ranging from 3 to 30 days, and made by 969,356 persons . . . . The Society operates 174 retreat houses, of which 32 are in the United States . . . . Throughout the world, Jesuits are promoting the Sodality of Our Lady and the League of the Sacred Heart.

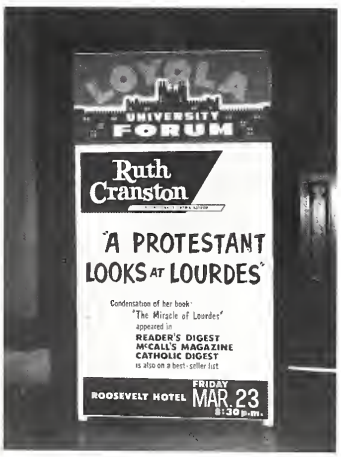
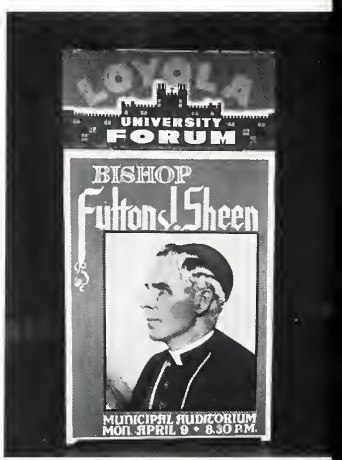
LOYOLA FORUM

Father Toomey once again directed the Loyola Forum through a very successful season. Year after year the forum brings to New Orleans the most outstanding speakers available in the United States today. The forum is the most painless educational movement ever introduced to Loyola.

Rev. John Toomey, S.J.
Forum Director





THE SINGING PRIEST

Father Sidney MacEwan, of Scotland, was the first attraction on the Loyola Forum in the 1955-56 season. Father has one of the most glorious voices ever heard. He has been called the "new John McCormack" by many critics in the States and in Europe.

BISHOP FULTON SHEEN

As Father Toomey said when he introduced Bishop Sheen — "Here he is."

Bishop Sheen with the famous POW in Korea, Gen. Dean.

THE DUBLIN PLAYERS

Since this was the Dublin Ployers' third appearance on the Forum they need no introduction to Loyolans. It is enough to say that they were among the best actors New Orleans saw in the past year.

BLUE KEY TALENT NIGHT

Carol Marie Cunningham, 1955-56 Campus and Homecoming Queen, was "Queen at the Races" during the past Homecoming Week. She is shown here, wearing the (Maroon and Gold) Jockey Silks of Herve Racivitch, former New Orleans' district attorney and a Loyola university law graduate, who owns a stable of horses at Fair Grounds. He uses Loyola colors.

IGNATIAN MASS

This year, 1956, is the four hundredth since the death of Saint Ignatius of Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus. All over the world men and women who have devotion to him and who have been educated by his followers have honored his memory by holding services in his honor. The Ignatian Mass in New Orleans was said in the Jesuit High School Chapel: a breakfast was held immediately following the Mass in the school's cafeteria.

Representatives from Jesuit institutions throughout the states attending the mass.

HAUSMANN TROPHY

The Hausmann Trophy was won again by the Sophs. We have to admit that the Frosh put up quite a battle but the older and wiser in the ways of the world, the world of tug-a-war and debate that is, came out on top. This is a yearly struggle on the Loyola campus.

CAMPUS CAPERS

— Loyola's dance band and goodwill troupe. This group of industrious musicians and performers is made up of students from all the schools and colleges of the University. The band provides music for "Nite at Loyola," Jambalaya Party, Freshman Hop, Sophomore Cotillion, High School Day, Pumpkin Romp, and other University functions.

LOUIS PENDARVIS
Director
(George Jansen, Faculty Advisor)

With the addition of singers, dancers, and comedians to its roster, Campus Capers brings the goodwill of Loyola to different High Schools and hospitals throughout the deep South. This year saw the valiant little group journey to: McGill High School, Mobile, Ala.; Veteran Hospital, Biloxi, Miss.; Veteran Hospital, New Orleans, La.

Government is their business, so for the first time the Loyola Student Council presented this year Gubernatorial candidates to the student body in the Quadrangle. The Council chartered two new organizations: the "Young Republican Club" and the "Young Democratic Club" and inaugurated the Student Council Award Day.

With all the numerous other legislative and administrative tasks performed by this organization, we credit another successful year of student government at Loyola to the capable and efficient Student Council of 1955-56 and Father O'Flynn, moderator.

Our Thespians had another banner 1955-56 season. Antigone was the first production, October 25-29. Jenny Kissed Me was the deep winter offering and the season closed with The First Legion, April 10 through the 14. All three plays were well received and rated fine reviews, especially the last which was an outstanding achievement in celebration of the Ignatian Year. The Junior Thespians also did a good job with their production of The Valiant. The Thespians have succeeded in bringing good theatrical entertainment to Loyola and New Orleans. We, of the university, are proud of our Thespians and feel we have the best in acting and directing services in the south.

Outstanding trockmen for 1955-56: Coach Jones presents Sam Ascani the trophy for the outstanding fieldman and Erwin Caswell the outstanding trackman trophy.

Pete Gaudin — outstanding varsity basketball player, best rebounding trophy and best free throw trophy for 1955-56 basketball season.

BASKETBALL

Coach — JAMES J. McCAFFERTY

Despite its 11-14 record during the 1955-56 season, LU's varsity basketball team played a topnotch brand of basketball. The Wolves had to wade through the toughest cage slate in modern history, which included such national powers as the Univeristy of San Francisco, unbeaten in two years and NCAA champs twice; and Oklahoma City, Dayton, Cincinnati, Seattle and Xavier of Ohio.

Coach Jim McCafferty put his lads in the annual Oklahoma City Invitational Tournament — daddy of all cage tournaments — where LU managed a 1-2 record. LU's biggest win was an upset of the then powerful Bradley Braves during the earlier part of the season. LU won that one, 71-65. Frisco beat Loyola, 61-43.

A lad who could possibly be the greatest cager in Loyola history was uncovered during the past year. He is Pete Gaudin, a 6 ft. 5 in. sophomore forward. Gaudin became the first sophomore in LU history to score 400 points; he finished seventh in the nation among major college free throw leaders with 130 out of 157 for a .828 average; he led the team in rebounds with 249; in field goal percentages with .431; in total points with 400; and in averages with 16.0 per game. Naturally, Gaudin is considered the "lad of the future."

WOLF-PUPS

Coach "Boo" Jones

This year's Wolfpups team comprised a record of 21 wins and 8 loses against some fine service teams and college Freshmen aggregations. As a result of their fine showing in winning the SAAU Tournament, they were selected to make the trip to Denver for the N.A.A.U. championships. To their glory the Pups won one and lost one against the country's finest amateur teams. Much credit is due Coach Jones and his minions. Names like Bob McLaughlin and Karl Vogt the co-captains, Bob Hughes, John Sullivan, Gene Mellican and Bob Goding will be heard echoing for the next three years in Loyola's basketball wars.

BASEBALL

Coach Jack Orsley, who has a personal penchant for winning, got his Loyola Wolfpack baseballers through a 12-7 season during 1956. Thus the Wolves kept their record intact of never having a losing baseball season. Actually, Loyola could and probably would have had a better year if Tony Chimento and Butsey Morlas, two top regulars, had not been injured. Morlas spent the entire season as manager. In three previous years, he was one of the Pack's best infielders and one of their top hitters. Chimento, injured during the Dixie Classic, played sparingly during the balance of the season. Whatever success the Wolf baseballers managed during the year was attributed to the fine hitting of Lee Boudreaux (he hit .426) and the hurling of Charley Gallmann (he had a 5-1 record). Competing in their first baseball tournament, the Orsleymen had a 1-2 record in the annual Dixie Classic, beating Amherst and losing to North Carolina and to Wake Forest, NCAA champs.

TRACK

COACH
BUFORD JONES

Loyola University's 1956 track team, while lacking in numbers, had an abundonce of individual talent. And it was the talent of performers like seniors Sam Ascani and Erwin Caswell and sophomore Jerry Heap which stood out during a winless season.

Ascani, for the second time, wos voted as the outstanding fieldman in the Southwestern La. Relays in Lafayette. Caswell ran second behind the fabulous Dave Sime of Duke in the 100-yard-dash at the Florida Relays this spring for his best effort of the year. These two lads, along with Heap, were the "big" pointmakers for the Wolfpack. Heap, incidentally, set a new record ot Florida State in the hurdles event.

During '56 Coach Buford "Boo" Jones found that talent alone couldn't carry his Wolfpack to successes over the likes of Louisiana Stote, Florido State and Southwestern La. Institute. The Wolves managed a second in o triangular meet with LSU and Miss. State, however. Again it was largely due to the efforts of the "big three."

LOYOLA MAROON

Since its founding in 1922, the Maroon, Loyola's officiol newspaper, has been the mirror of campus life. Through its editorials, it has done much to spread Catholic thought. Under the capable leadership of Tootsie Williams, an all-round top-notch newspaper was turned out news-wise, sports-wise and editorial-wise.

In addition to the remarkoble accomplishment of never missing a deadline, The Loyola Maroon again won All-American rating for each semester of the 1955-56 season.

We of Loyola and the Wolf staff say, "hats-off, Maroon, for a job well done."

PIKE

Since the Spring of 1955, the College of Business Administration has actively participated in publishing a monthly newspaper entitled "The Pike." It is sponsored by the Pi Kappa Epsilon professional commerce fraternity. However, all students in the college write articles. The editor this year was Otto Goessel who was helpfully aided by Ray Buras, president of the fraternity. They do a very good job of keeping the students up on the happenings in the business college.
